interactive technology & projection media

Night Projections

As one of the originators of projection advertising, we lead the industry with the most powerful cinematic projection equipment in the market. The award winning service is completely mobile, allowing you to engage your audience with a wide range of creative opportunities and locations unattainable by traditional OOH inventory. With experienced technical and operations teams from coast to coast we can serve single or multiple markets simultaneously. Night Projections can be easily integrated with other technologies for interaction with mobile, SMS, tablet and social media.

- Full Motion Video, Static Images & Animations
- Standard Definition or 3D
- Dusk to Midnight Projections
- Location Scouting
- Program Management
- Interactivity Capable
- Full POP with Video

Interactivity & Integration

Interactivity allows your audience to engage with your brand from their iPhone, Blackberry or Android smart phone. Our experienced team of developers can create a custom branded app to integrate into your campaign. Our projection and interactive based campaigns can be perfectly in sync with your overall strategy via social integration, allowing people to further engage, participate and share their experience with your brand. From social network integration to mobile content control, our experienced team of developers will make your concept a reality.

Promotional Advertising

In addition to the largest fleet of Mobile Billboards in the country Streetblimps provides an array of non-traditional promotional advertising programs. We cover all markets across the US, including Hawaii and Alaska.

Programs can include such elements as:

- Mobile Billboards
- Glass Box Trucks
- Wrapped Vehicles
- Projection Media
- Interactive Technologies
- Brand Ambassadors
- Segways
- Ad Balloons
- Street Decals
- Door Hangers

Streetblimps also excels in providing turn-key unique non-traditional advertising programs. From Crop Circles in the middle of America to the “Bottle in the Stone” on the streets of Chicago to a Baseball-themed promo at the Little League World Series for Honda, we provide the experience to create and implement any type of unique or crazy promotional campaign.
